SUNDAY SERVICES IN THE REVIVAL

Congregations Are Greater Than Ever and Many Souls Are Being Saved.

Saturday evening's service was unusually well attended and the singing was excellent. Dr. Smith began by speaking of the instilling into the hearts of the children the Christ life. Young children are very sensitive and often much earlier than we think they are ready to give their hearts to the Lord. A rising vote was taken which showed that the great mass of Christians are converted before they are twenty-one years old and very few are saved after they are forty.

The scripture lesson was from Luke 15. The evangelist said you can't sin and be happy.

It is somebody's business when one goes wrong. God is vitally concerned. And we are all prodigal children. Sin kills the finer powers of the soul. A man can't turn loose of sin just when he takes a notion; he becomes fettered. Christianity is expression and not repression. Some people sin when away from home who would not at home. There are but two classes of people: sinners saved by grace and sinners unsaved.

Sunday.

At 10 o'clock Sunday morning a meeting of the Sunday schools of the city was held at the tent. Each school occupied a separate section and the classes were seated together with their teachers. In this way each teacher had ready access to his pupils to encourage or counsel with them when the invitation was given. A strong appeal was made and a large number of professions followed.

The texts for Sunday morning's sermon were Rev. 1:7 and 1 Cor. 16:22. A brief statement of the preacher's thought is that we ought to love Christ for (1) what He has done for us, (2) what He is doing for us and (3) for what He will do for us. A few of the thoughts were as follows: Every heart can be a Bethlehem and crowd Jesus out, but every heart can be opened and let Him in. The gospel reaches every nationality just in the same way and the great transformation from barbarism is due to the Christ who staggered under His cross but went on and was crucified upon it.

"If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be accursed." Jesus will come and those who do not love him will be accursed. Men be on the side of Jesus and you are on the safe side.

A meeting of men was held at the tent at 3 p. m., and was quite well attended. Many gave expression to their experiences in life and confessing their faults pledged themselves to a better and more faithful life for Christ. There were four professions of faith at this service.

The big tent has been filled a number of times during the meeting, but probably no crowd has been larger than on last night. The preacher seemed at his best and made a telling appeal to the lost, using as his theme the coming judgment. In spite of the threatenings of the approaching rain, the attention was rapt and there were ten or a dozen responses to the invitation to confess Christ as Lord and Savior.

Thanksgiving in prayer and song was characteristic of the opening of this morning's service. Keeping close to the Lord was emphasized by Dr. Smith as being the safe way for all Christians, as much for beginners as for those more advanced.

Seven confessed Christ at the close of the service.

Prayer meetings at 4 o'clock each afternoon in the various parts of the city; the men's meeting over the First National Bank; preaching 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. is the continued program.

Prof. W. L. Powers returned yesterday from a business trip to Bryan.

The graduating class of Millican High School was very delightfully entertained Thursday night with a "Slumber Party" at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McGregor.

There was not a dull moment from 6 o'clock until 8 the next morning. After a delicious supper there followed great fun on the lawn until a rather late hour. The name "Slumber Party" was, however, not very appropriate because it was really a contest to see who could remain awake the longest. A pillow fight was one of the chief attractions of the evening, a typical battle between the United States and Germany (?). This was the first of a series of entertainments that will be given for the class of 1915-16, and we are confident that it was one of the most pleasant that will be given. In everyone's memory there dwells sweet recollections of their last days in high school; at least very pleasant memories will be associated with their class. The hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. McGregor will long be remembered. Those present were: Misses Carro Mae Edwards, Hulallor Hempfling, Gladys Johnson, Mary Dickson, Irene Ferman and Ruth McGregor. FORD WOULD BUY GAS SUBSTITUTE

Manufacturer Says He Considers With Man Who Claims to Have New Power Fuel.

New York, April 24.—Henry Ford announced here Saturday that if Louis Enright's discovery of a fluid for motive power fuel measured up to the inventor's claims he would buy the formula outright. He conferred with Enright yesterday, but said no test was made of the mixture of a green powder and water which Enright contends may be used as a substitute for gasoline. Mr. Ford added, however, that after talking with Enright he was satisfied Enright "knew what he was about."

Mr. Ford also announced that he would accept a nomination for the presidency "if the people wanted him."

"One thing I am absolutely sure of in this respect," declared Mr. Ford, "and that is that I shall not finance any third party—not with one cent. Should it be made evident that I am wanted, that is a different matter."

Mr. Ford expressed the opinion that the office should seek the man rather than that the man should seek the office.

"I am not a candidate for the presidential nomination," he added. "I can not regard myself in such a light. I regard it as a joke only. It is a very serious question as to who the joke is on."

Referring to the recent primary elections in the Middle West, at which he was endorsed by republican voters as their preference for the presidential nomination, Mr. Ford said the result was "significant of what the people in that section of the country—the people who raise the stuff that feeds the country—think of militarism."
